Rumble Arts Center is a non-profit organization providing an accessible cultural space that facilitates the empowerment and education of individuals and communities. We are located in Chicago's Humboldt Park neighborhood, where we offer free and low-cost art classes for children and adults, in a variety of art forms, including visual art, dance, ceramics, video, yoga, martial arts, art therapy, and theater.

In 2012, Rumble Arts Center would like to offer its large, first-floor gallery space to like-minded organizations to use to display artwork, to put on theater or musical performances, or for events, fundraisers, shows, or other cultural happenings. The gallery space can be used for a single night, or can be used for art shows lasting up to one month.

The gallery is approximately 1,250 square feet and beautifully appointed with an original tin ceiling and polished wooden floors. The walls are plain white. There is also a kitchen adjacent to the gallery space that can be used to prepare food for opening nights or other events.

Rumble Arts Center is now accepting applications for use of its gallery space. Cost of using the space is dependent on the purpose it is used for, and will be determined on a case-by-case basis. Rumble is committed to providing the space for free as often as possible, but occasionally will need to collect a nominal fee based of particular usage (i.e. kitchen use, etc.).

Rumble would like to offer the gallery starting in June 2012, and we are accepting applications for its use now.

Please fill out the application and e-mail it to Rumble Arts Center at rumblearts@gmail.com, or deliver it in person to 3413 W North Ave, Chicago, IL, 60622. Someone from Rumble will contact you shortly to discuss your needs and determine how your proposed usage fits with our schedule.
